Proffitt resumes DLC promotion push

Michael Proffitt, former CEO of Dubai Logistics City, has been appointed as strategic advisor at UK-based recruitment specialist BS Henderson.

The executive, who has also worked at Danzas and Deutsche Post in the past, will focus on 'knowledge-based supply chain recruitment', according to a statement from the company.

"If you understand world leading supply chain techniques you can properly assess the clients requirements and candidate's capabilities. However, without that in-depth knowledge how can you profess to add value to a client's business - after all knowledge is power," commented Proffitt.

"BS Henderson has sensibly taken the time to develop its strategy over the last 10months before bringing its strategic intent to the market. I am delighted to be at the forefront of this exciting development," he added.
