Bis Henderson Academy: Helping you make the most of the Apprenticeship Levy

If your business is not already spending its Apprenticeship Levy funds, now is the time to take action. You have already incurred the cost (the funds have been deducted by HMRC since 2017); the only way to get any value in return is to spend the funds on developing your people.

We can help you understand how the Levy affects your business. We'll then help you utilise the credits to the greatest effect with flexible, tailored programmes designed specifically for your unique requirements.

“ Bis Henderson Academy helped us align our team's skills gaps with the most relevant qualifications so we could meet our business training goals, from there we've been able to use the Levy to fund an internally-branded learning and development programme. It was so important to pick a training provider who could teach us what we needed to know and guide us through the process. ”
